

INDUSTRIAL PERSPECTIVES

LACZKOWSKI PIOTR

BackMarket, Paris, France

piotr.laczkowski@gmail.com

I will show you how I have changed my work-profile from an Experimental physicist working on spintronics applications at CNRS/CEA/Thales public research facilities to become a Lead Data Scientist working on Machine Learning and Big Data problems in a private sector of refurbished devices (BackMarket.fr). I will present BackMarket and some of the typical problems we are dealing with in the Data Team division. Moreover, I'll try to highlight some of the key factors for a success when going through a recruitment process or an interview in a private company based on my experience in hiring Data Scientists and Data Engineers. I'll focus on real-life examples which I believe could make you beneficial, highlight all necessary skills.